Dear Geoff:

Proffitt and Sons has successfully completed many projects with our company through the years. In fact I can't think of a construction job where I wasn't glad that your company was the metal stud, drywall, and ceiling contractor for that particular building.

Most impressive through the years has been the quality of the sheetrock finishing. When Proffitt's is doing the job, the architect's punch list for the sheetrock defects is much smaller than with other subcontractors.

The speed and efficiency with which the metal studs and sheetrock is performed by your firm greatly enhances the overall completion of these buildings. Because of the responsive manner that is characteristic of this company, our profitability as a general contractor is increased.

Specific outstanding projects include the Dialysis Clinic in Sevierville, the Park West Church of God Benevolence Center in Knoxville, the St. Thomas Multi-Purpose Facility in Lenoir City, and the Northstar Church in Knoxville. The Northstar Church was a unique "tent-like" Sprung structure which required a re-design of the metal stud framing in order to accommodate unusual design parameters. Proffitt's worked with their structural engineer to provide the innovative structural changes, while staying within the church's budget.

In closing, the honesty and craftsmanship shown by Proffitt's and Sons through the years as been exemplary.
